

HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT TOWN

PUTS HIS O. K.
ON LOYALTY OF ACKERMANN

H. A. Engman, Jr., of U. S. War Trades Board, Lauds Patriotism of Democratic Nominee for Mayor.

"I know Rudolph Ackermann to be a patriot and an American citizen that you should be proud of." This is the endorsement Harry A. Engman, Jr., secretary of the national war trades board at Washington gave the democratic nominee for mayor at a meeting of 250 voters held in Washington hall Thursday night. Mr. Engman, who was called to Washington three months ago to be associated with Vance McCord, A. Mitchell Palmer and other men of national prominence in the restriction of exports during the world war, stated that he had heard of the bitter campaign that the republicans have been waging against Mr. Ackermann and was glad of the opportunity to say something in the nominee's behalf.

In addition to Mr. Engman and Mr. Ackermann, the other speakers of the evening were Frank Gilmer, candidate for city judge; Frank S. Bilinski, candidate for city clerk; Maurice Vennett, candidate for councilman from the third ward, and August Bailey, John Kuse and Ed. Luther, candidates for councilman-at-large; George W. Sands, secretary of the democratic central committee; Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Samuel P. Schwartz; Atty. Stuart MacKibbin and Isadore Cohen.

Speaks as Citizen.
"I am glad to be here with you, not as a politician, but as a citizen of South Bend who knows both candidates," said Mr. Engman in his address to the voters of the third ward last night.

"In the first place I cannot see how a thinking people, and I presume that the men associated with Dr. Carson are thinking men, could peddle this stuff about Rudolph Ackermann being un-American because he is of German descent. I have known Mr. Ackermann for a long time. I know Dr. Carson. I was engaged in business in this city before I left for Washington and if I had to employ a man today to assume a responsible position it would not be Dr. Carson.

"This un-American stuff, this unreasonable clamor in the republican ranks against Mr. Ackermann because he has a German name is disgraceful.

"I have a German name, but by heavens, I would like to hear any man or any gang of men question my integrity and patriotism. It is perfectly ridiculous to me that this should be brought up in this campaign, and when I heard Mr. Ackermann was the subject of the attack I was only too glad to be of some service during my short stay here.

"I have resided in South Bend for 20 years previous to my position on the trades board at Washington, and I know these men running on opposition tickets for mayoralty honors.

Lauds Ackermann's Traits.
"Rudolph Ackermann is young and eminently successful. He is clean and honest and is a business man every inch of him. Is not that enough to qualify him for the position which he is seeking?"

"I want to leave this thought with you, my friends. I have come from Washington, that great hub of America—the hub of the universe, where every heart is pulsating the patriotism inspired by the thought of world-wide freedom and democracy. The president was elected by the democratic party. He heads that party, but in his appointments he has digressed from politics where ever a man stood out pre-eminently a patriot. However, the majority of his appointments have been given to patriots of America who are of his political faith.

"Rudolph Ackermann is of that type. He is a man, who citizens of this community can support with a clear conscience, and I want to assure you that he can be trusted in the city hall."

Tells of War Work.
Mr. Engman disressed for a few moments to tell the audience about the war machinery of the government in Washington. He explained the duties of the war board and the large group of great men who are directing the forces of the government in the present struggle.

"You people at home here do not realize the tremendous importance of this war to all liberty loving souls of the earth and I have been told that Americans would not sense the terrible importance of this struggle until this country met with some great calamity. But I believe that the people of the United States and see in the Italian reverses what we are up against. However, you may be sure that the greatest men of this nation have their shoulder to the wheel at Washington and we will win, in time.

Mr. Sands and Mr. MacKibbin both reminded the audience of the representative make-up of the democratic administrations which preceded the Keller regime here.

Party the Melting Pot.
"The democratic party is the melting pot of all nationalities," said Mr. MacKibbin.

Mr. Vennett, the councilman nominee urged the voters to support the entire democratic ticket that Mr. Ackermann may have complete harmony in the city hall following the election. Mr. Vennett stated that he stood behind the majority nominee in his platform and that he would support the measures in Mr. Ackermann's statement to the public when the latter entered the campaign for mayor.

Mr. Schwartz spoke of his long acquaintance with Mr. Ackermann and stated that the nominee's only thought in aspiring to the chief executive's duties in the city hall was to serve the people.

The candidates for councilman-at-large all agreed the voters of the third ward and all those of the remaining wards in the city of their cooperation in the administration of the affairs of the city.

Tea Room Starts
Meatless And Wheatless Days

No meat on Tuesdays, and no wheat on Wednesdays is the rule at the Lexington tea room in the J. M. S. building. It is believed to be the first restaurant in the city which has heard the call of Food Administrator Herbert C. Hoover.

From an investigation most of the eating places throughout the city are all "waiting to see what the others are going to do." Some of them are cutting down the number of meats served daily, and replacing them with vegetables and game or fish.

The Washington restaurant, beginning today, has a list of meatless suggestions, such as oysters, fish, soups, etc., on the menu. Mr. Stratigos has already cut down the number of meats from 10 to 3. He is also doing his best to save the country's wheat supply. Customers are requested not to eat white, but rye bread instead. And accordingly, patrons are served with three slices of rye bread to every slice of white. Last night Mr. Stratigos stated that there were two ways of effectively preserving the country's wheat and meat, and the two ways were by fear and self-interest. In other words if the individual could not be brought to realize the fact that the conservation of the nation's food supplies is essential for their own good as well as for the good of the United States soldiers fighting across the sea, then a law requiring and forcing the people to eat less meat and wheat should be made.

City Organize

More than 35 newsboys of this city met Thursday night at The News-Times Printing Co., where they formally organized the South Bend News Boys association. Alfred Moss was elected president; Kenneth Thompson, secretary; Earl Rose, treasurer. The purpose of the organization is to meet regularly every week and discuss ways and means for the improvement of service.

A hall is to be provided where the boys will hold their meetings. Every member of the association will be presented with a badge which will read "Member of the South Bend News Boys association." The boys all seemed to be very enthusiastic about their new project and already plans are being laid for the organization of athletic teams.

It was largely through the efforts of E. P. White, H. D. Myers and Joseph M. Stephenson that the organization was formed. Mr. Stephenson gave a short address to the boys and told them of the advancement that has been made by the newsboys' organizations in the larger cities. At the conclusion of the meeting doughnuts and cider was served to the boys.
